Lash Lift Aftercare

How to get the longest wear out of your lash lift!

Keep Your Lash Lift Dry

In the first 24-48 hours after your treatment it's super important to keep your lashes away from any water, steam, or sweat - that means no steam rooms, no swimming and no intense exercise. This also includes standing over a pan of boiling water or opening that oven door!

Look Don't Touch

Try not to rub your eyes or touch your lashes too much after your lift, as this can push them out of their picture perfect curl. It's also good to avoid sleeping on your side or on your face if you can, as this also changes their shape. The more you touch your eyelashes, the more the oils from your fingers are breaking down the keratin formula. It's tempting to touch your new lashes, but avoid contact at all costs.

Brush Brush Baby

Brush your lashes daily to keep them looking fluffy and stop them getting tangled.

Apply Nourishing Oil

Oil up those lashes 3 - 5 times a week with the mascara wand and rice grain size amount of nourishing oil provided.

For Mascara Lovers

If you still want to wear mascara after your lash lift, just make sure you're using a water-based formula and steer clear of waterproof mascara! Use oil-free make-up remover to take it off, and gently pat your lashes dry afterwards - no rubbing.

When you are ready you can book your next lash lift from 6 weeks, any sooner could potentially damage your lashes!
